LUMALINE™ - the light way of displaying

Lumaline is a new product range from Tech View A/S, the makers of FLEX-display™.

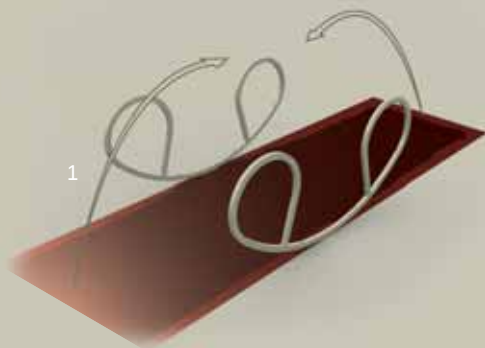

Lumaline is a bright new perspective on exhibition furniture:

- Luma - one of the first truly illuminated and backlit displays
- Line - a family of modular systems

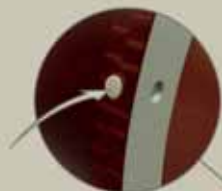

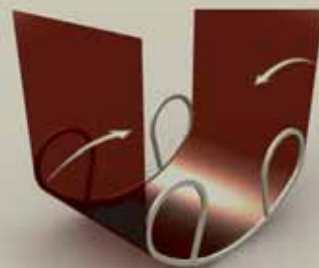

With Lumaline, we offer a range of counters and display units for trade shows, in-store activities and other promotional campaigns. The units can be equipped with inside illumination to light up your message.

You can choose from our standard products in fixed sizes, which can be delivered quickly. Or you can combine individual parts to create your display exactly the way you like it.

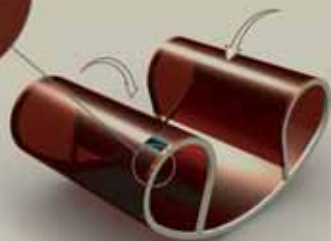

Lumaline is portable in handy bags, easy and quick to set up, and will attract plenty of attention in any setting.

LUMALINE™ - a modular system

The core of the Lumaline system is a modular frame with a polycarbonate sheet wall. When mounted to the frame, the polycarbonate becomes a rigid structure, capable of carrying the entire system in a height up to 220 cm. Due to the modular frame, you can create an infinite number of shapes.

The system can be decorated in different ways. You have the option of printing your graphic directly onto the polycarbonate sheets - offering multiple possibilities in terms of effects with added lights. Or you can opt for a white polycarbonate front and add your own printed foil.

How to assemble your Lumaline counter

Place the polycarbonate sheet on a flat surface, then fit the frames in the center.

Fix the polycarbonate sheet to the frame all through its length.

Tip the counter to an upright position, add the top - you're done.

LUMALINE complete products

The family of standard units from Lumaline consists of two types of counters, a table and stools.

The smaller version of the counter is perfect for trade shows, exhibitions and in-shop promotion activities. You can use it with or without lighting, and there is shelving underneath the counter to keep information material and samples handy.

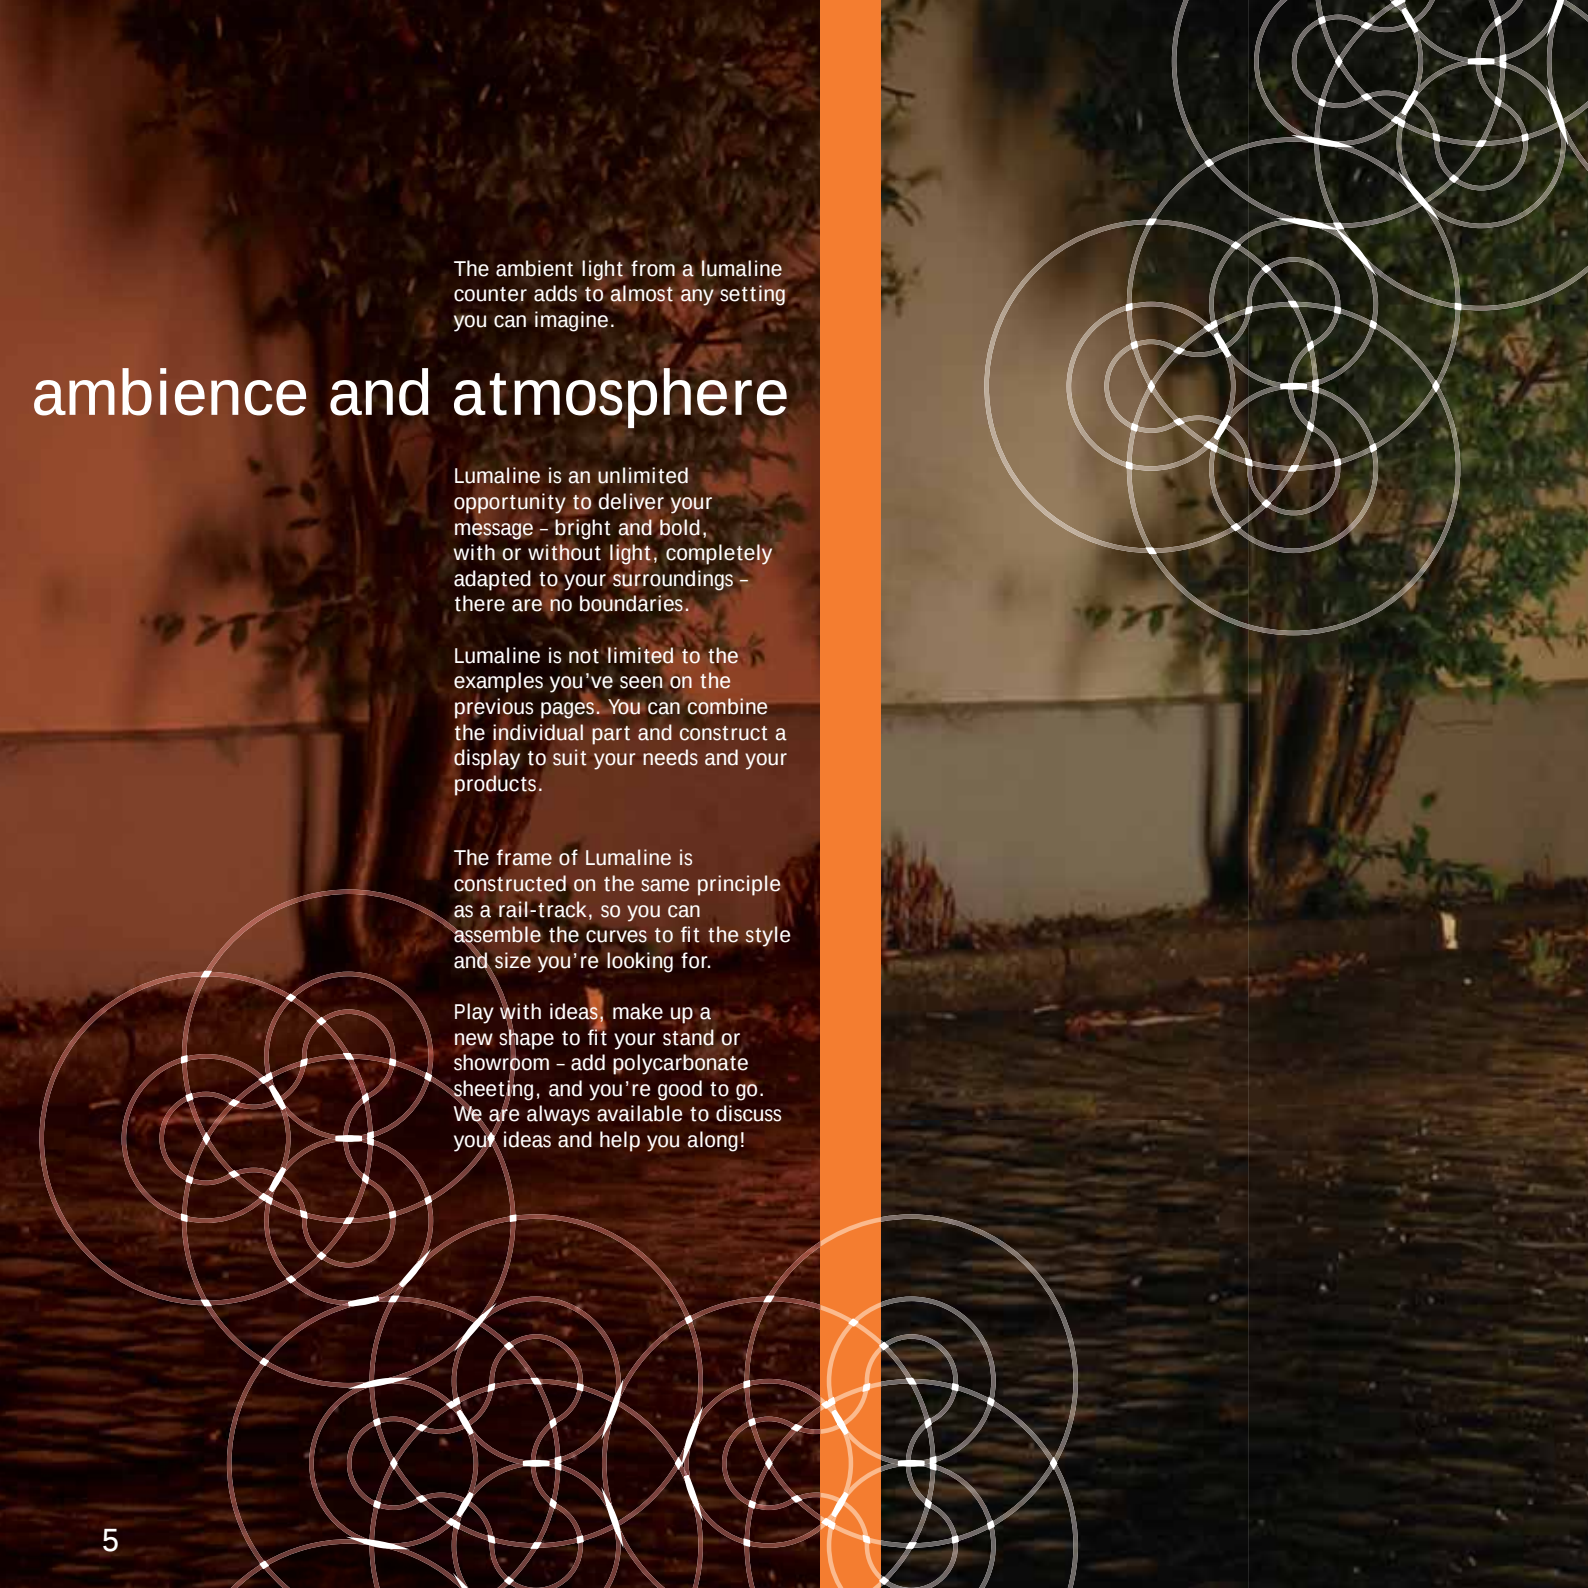

The larger counter can be used for the same types of activities – however, this one is large enough to serve as a bar with two persons behind it or allow you to demonstrate larger products.

You can use the counters on their own or combine them with other products from the Lumaline range.

The table with its novel shape attracts attention and offers plenty of space – but remains portable and easy to set up. It is an ideal setting for a meeting, a product demonstration or an information session. You can decorate the table to display your message on all sides, and add light. Combine the table with stools for a sit-down meeting, or stand at the table – the design makes it comfortable either way.

The stool is ideal for use on shows – for customers or staff – or for in-store activities. It can be decorated to match the counter and is an excellent way to attract even more attention.

The background of the page is a photograph of a tree at night, with its branches and leaves silhouetted against a dark sky. The tree is illuminated from below, creating a warm, orange glow. Overlaid on the image are several large, white, overlapping circles that form a decorative pattern. A vertical orange bar runs down the center of the page, separating the left and right halves.

ambience and atmosphere

The ambient light from a lumaline counter adds to almost any setting you can imagine.

Lumaline is an unlimited opportunity to deliver your message – bright and bold, with or without light, completely adapted to your surroundings – there are no boundaries.

Lumaline is not limited to the examples you've seen on the previous pages. You can combine the individual part and construct a display to suit your needs and your products.

The frame of Lumaline is constructed on the same principle as a rail-track, so you can assemble the curves to fit the style and size you're looking for.

Play with ideas, make up a new shape to fit your stand or showroom – add polycarbonate sheeting, and you're good to go. We are always available to discuss your ideas and help you along!
