THE BELIKA BASIC CONCEPT

Belika manufactures high quality goods. Complaints represent less than 0.3%.	You avoid spending time on complaints and achieve high customer satisfaction.
Our extensive basic range is constantly updated and does therefore not grow out of fashion.	You avoid write-downs and achieve a high gross profit.
Over the years, Belika has achieved a high degree of recognition among consumers.	Many consumers know and have confidence in the Belika brand.
Flexibility is a key issue for us and accordingly you may order down to one item of each design, colour or size.	You avoid having capital unnecessarily tied up in stock and achieve a higher rate of turnover.
As we store more than 100,000 items of basic goods, we may function as your own remote warehouse.	You can therefore be quite confident that you will receive the goods requested and your surplus stock will be minimized.
Expedient day-to-day delivery within the season.	Excellent customer service and less capital tied up in stock.
Order through our B-to-B 24 hours a day and avoid dispatch fees on small orders.	You order your goods whenever you like and thereby optimise your stock while spending a minimum of time.
Our staff will provide you with optimum service.	Gives you an easier working day and solution-oriented trade.
At Belika, we have a highly qualified and well-trained staff.	All requests from you and your staff will therefore be treated competently and professionally.

MERCERIZED COTTON

Mercerized cotton, also known as pearl cotton, is prepared using a process first discovered by John Mercer in 1844. He discovered that cotton fibres submersed in a strong caustic soda solution would swell and develop a high lustre. Because of this, the shade of dyed Mercerized Cotton fibres is more brilliant than unmercerized cotton, making it stronger and brighter.
