Basket

Design Anna Ehrner

This bowl is somewhat reminiscent of a Jackson Pollock painting, one splash with the paint brush and full of color. The bowls come in white, black, pink, green, turquoise and yellow. The color makes a vibrant impression while still keeping the clearly defined glass surface beautifully visible.

Brains

Design Bertil Vallien

The hand painted glass heads are famous by now. It is even said the Pope may have one. The series is now complemented by Janus, in black and blue, and Tristan and Isolde in orange. These brains are blessed or cursed, however you choose to see it, with two heads – one gazing into the future and one into the past.

Brick

Design Anna Ehrner

The votive Brick has the graphic weight of a brick. But at a closer look, the floating veils embodied in the glass make it look light as a feather. Votives in lime and orange are additions to this fall's most contradictory series.

Cabana

Design Ludvig Löfgren

This fall just became more exotic with the addition of eight new pieces in the Cabana series. Glass bars in different colors are melted in intriguing patterns and blown into four new bowls and four vases.

Contrast

Design Anna Ehrner

Among other things, Anna is the designer of the popular stemware series Line. Contrast, a variation of bowls, plates and vases, is another of the most beloved series. The colored veils and bars inside the glass have become almost a signature for Anna. The series is now complemented by a large vase which comes in six colors, white, black, blue, light green, orange and lime.

My Wide Life

Design Ludvig Löfgren

The Wide Life series is also growing in numbers by two large Bamboo vases, two puzzled owls, a timid mouse, a white gorilla (available from November) and two quirky rabbits. This series questions the quintessence of boundaries and just how different perceptions can be.

Wide Life Babies

Design Ludvig Löfgren

It gives us great pleasure to announce the arrival of the latest addition to the Wide Life family, the Babies. A little owl (whom we have named Spooky), an elephant (Toto), a cat (Yummy), a monkey (Coco), a rabbit (Bitsy) and a bird (Itsy). Ludvig Löfgren, the master of young and modern glass, is hereby responsible for the cutest addition to Kosta Boda's collection since 1742.

Intermezzo

Design Erika Lagerbielke

The glass with the blue drop stem. Most people would recognize Intermezzo by that description. Erika Lagerbielke designed the glass in 1985 and Intermezzo is today one of our most popular stemware series. But since our drinking and serving habits in 2012 look a bit different than they did in 1985 we are adding three new glasses to the series – a champagne coupe and two liqueur glasses: a grappa glass and a snifter for cognac, fine rum, malt whiskey or calvados. The equivalent pieces are also added to our Intermezzo Satin series with a white drop.

Klone

Design Karim Rashid

An interactive series of candlesticks, vases and bowls for all of you out there who desire to be part of the creation process. Each piece in the series is identical and can be used on its own. But placed together they become really exciting – Klone can completely change appearances by being placed in different constellations and combinations. The Klone series consist of vases, cylinder shaped candlesticks, cylinder shaped bowls and squarely shaped candlesticks.

Pond

Design Ingegerd Råman

Ingegerd Råman, one of Swedish design's front figures, has designed an addition of four new patterns for the Pond series. Pond is a sand engraved series of bowls with different linear patterns. As always Ingegerd Råman's design language is simple but refined, or as Ingegerd herself puts it: "A bowl with a lid is a bowl with a lid. But you have to add warmth, thought, idea and poetry to it."
